We’re headed to PAX East

Events Mister Taxel Mar 13, 2019

Hey Xbox Ambassadors! I’ve got some awesome news to share with you all—the Xbox Ambassadors Community Managers are shipping out to Boston for PAX East 2019! We’ll have a booth in the Diversity Lounge, you’ll see us roaming around the show floor, and we’re hosting a Meet & Greet at the Prudential Center Microsoft Store on Friday for any Ambassadors who want to meet up somewhere other than the convention center. There will be lots of opportunities to pick up cool Ambassador swag and to hang out with the CM team—we’re very excited to see you there! Let us know if you’re planning on attending PAX East this year and check out all the details below in the meantime.

When we’re going

March 28—31, and will be at PAX from 10AM to 6PM ET.

Where to find us

You’ll see members of the CM team at the Xbox Ambassadors booth in the PAX Diversity Lounge. Turn left after coming in the main entrance and the Diversity Lounge is just around the corner. Come check out the Xbox Ambassadors booth and visit all the other awesome organizations in the Diversity Lounge!

If you're planning on attending, let us and the rest of the community know on Discord!

- We're standing up a Discord channel called #pax_east_2019 so Ambassadors and CM's can coordinate schedules.
- The CM team will be active there before floor hours each day of the convention—it's a great place to work out schedules and to ask the CMs any questions (or just stop by the Xbox Ambassadors booth in the Diversity Lounge).

We're having a Meet & Greet Friday night at the Microsoft Store (with no PAX badge required).

- When: Friday March 29, 7—8 PM ET
- Where: Microsoft Store at Prudential Center, Boston, MA
- Who's going to be there: Taxel, AshesX, EnolaCat, Rezzee, and possibly you
- Show us you're an Ambassador to score more Ambassador swag
